

The Federal Communications Commission

Dear The Federal Communications Commission,

I am a minimun user of celluar telephone service -- probably less than 30 minutes in a year. I have On Star service in my vehicle and keep a phone for emergency use (my wife is an invalid). I use prepaid service only - and it usually expires before use.

Under the circumstances, flat fee taxing for USF would be totally unfair, and would defeat the primary purpose of celluar service. The FCC should be promoting essential use and discouraging chatter. This proposal would discourage the type use I require.

Sincerely,

David Noble
3309 Kingsbury Circle
Roanoke, Virginia 24014